ON THE CREATIVE PACK AND ITS USAGE

Creative Pack and the MOME Care Pack series is a reaction to the various forms, quality and target groups of isolation. The Creative Pack focuses on the experience of learning through games and on developing and supporting the age group of 8 to 12 year olds.

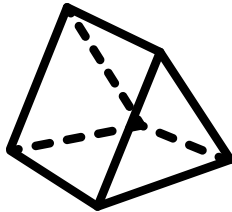

The pack is both targeted at families seeking inspiration on how to spend the summer holidays with the most diverse activities possible and those who are looking for alternative creativity development activities for their children that they can still afford within the limitations of the family budget. During the time of social distancing parents were challenged by the task of having to hold the attention of their children and developing their creativity besides the daily routine and the regular school duties. Isolation was even more difficult because of the limited possibilities for physical activities.

During this time of spring and summer holiday spending time within the homes became simpler but during the summer months there might be a need to spend vacation with more diverse activities. The Creative Pack is a downloadable package offering playful alternatives for passing the time during the school holidays. There are three types of games within the package that mostly develop fine motor skills, dexterity, spatial thinking and memory within the age group of 8 to 12 year olds.

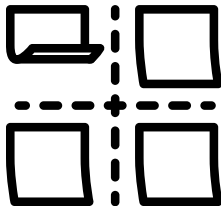

The GUIDE ON THE CREATIVE PACK AND ITS USAGE makes children familiar with the craft of creative construction by using paper and other raw materials that are suitable to construct your own universe. The A4 Memory Game is also downloadable and helps you practice your knowledge about the animal world in the context of biology. By playing with the A4 Geometric Game you can develop spatial vision, the recognition of spatial forms and shapes. The ideas that you can find in the package may be realized by using tools that you can buy easily in stores or have at hand even in your household.

The MOME A4 Building Block Game introduces children to the craft of creative construction, paper as a building block and other simple materials that you can find at home may be used to create your own grid universe. Our video at <https://segitopakk.mome.hu/en/index.html> introduces the process of construction step by step. The preparation process is supported by a PDF document you can access by clicking on the A4 building block icon.

The A4 Memory Game helps to practice your knowledge about the animal world in biology and it also develops memory. You only need a few sheets of A4 size paper, some glue and a printer. If there is no printer available you can also draw the images.

The A4 Geometric Game supports the development of spatial vision, helps to recognize spatial forms and their implementation into a three dimensional form. By using a pair of scissors, the printed A4 patterns and some glue you can create exciting spatial forms that can be built into the MOME A4 Building Block Game and its towers.
